The memorial to Lt. Col. Michael P. Anderson will be the centerpiece of a new space explorations exhibit at The Museum of Flight to serve as a role model for children to follow their dreams. Donations will create The Michael P. Anderson Memorial Scholarship for Children of Color. This special fund will enable underserved children in Washington state to attend programs of The Museum of Flight to create interest in math, science, technology and aerospace education, much like Michael had in his journey to excellence.

"The Museum of Flight exists to acquire, preserve and exhibit historically significant air and space artifacts that provide a foundation for scholarly research and lifelong learning programs, which inspire continuing interest in and understanding of science, technology and the humanities."

The Museum of Flight Mission Statement

The Museum of Flight offers a complete range of innovative and exciting education programs for educators, youth servers, families and children of all ages. Offerings include space missions in the Challenger Learning Center and hands-on flight within realistic and imaginative simulation programs.
